

Greyhound cuts travel cost for 'Sorry Day'

The forgotten Australians travelling to Canberra to see the Prime Minister's official apology in person will be able to catch a Greyhound bus for half price.

Kevin Rudd is due to say sorry to former wards of the state, foster children and institutionalised children at Parliament House next Monday (16 November).

The 50% off travel offer is available to all members of the Care Leavers Australian Network (CLAN) wanting to be a part of the event.

Greyhound Australia CEO Rob Thomas said Greyhound would be discounting its tickets to ensure more people could be in Canberra for the occasion.

"The offer extends across Greyhound's national network so people can travel to and from Brisbane, Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide to attend 'Sorry Day' in Canberra," Mr. Thomas said.

"CLAN has more than 900 members across Australia and Greyhound is glad to be able to support them in this way.

"Greyhound is a passionately proud Australian company that has been running transport services for over 104 years.

"I'm pleased we have the opportunity to make what may be an emotional journey for many Australians just that bit easier."

The travel offer will continue from Friday 13 November until Friday 20 November to ensure travellers have adequate time to get to and from Canberra.

To apply CLAN members must book through Greyhound's Call Centre on 1300 GREYHOUND (1300 473 946).

Greyhound visits many regions not serviced by airlines and provides an economical and reliable way to travel around Australia.

The company is also one of the most environmentally efficient travel operators in the country with its travel green program giving passengers the option to offset the CO2 emissions from their trip.

Greyhound's 129 coaches operate 365 days a year and travel to more than 1,100 destinations daily.
